The Department of Statistics seeks applications to fill multiple non-tenure track Lecturer positions during the 2018-2019 academic year. Subject areas of particular need include, but are not limited to, introductory statistics for undergraduate courses as needed. Compensation may take the form of part-time salary with part-time benefits or full-time salary with full-time benefits, depending upon the number of courses taught.

A degree in statistics (or related field) at the M.S. level is required; a Ph.D. is preferred. Candidates must have a strong commitment to teaching. Previous experience in teaching well-prepared undergraduates at a large state university is highly desirable.

To apply, please complete a Candidate Profile online through Jobs@UVa (https://jobs.virginia.edu), and electronically attach the following: a current CV, cover letter, a statement of teaching philosophy, and complete contact information for three professional references. Search on posting 0622964.

Review of applications will begin May 11, 2018, but the position will remain open until filled.

Questions regarding this position should be directed to:
Karen Kafadar, Chair, Department of Statistics, kkafadar@virginia.edu (434-924-3096).

Questions regarding the online application process should be directed to:
Karen Dalton, Office Administrator, Department of Statistics, kwd2n@virginia.edu (434-924-3222).

The University will perform background checks on all new hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.
