Non-Tenure Track Position in Statistics

- Villanova University, Villanova, PA

Apply

The Department of Mathematics and Statistics at Villanova University welcomes applications for a continuing non-tenure track position in Statistics that begins in Fall 2018. The teaching load for the position is 12 credit hours per semester. The primary duties are to teach introductory and advanced undergraduate or graduate courses in Mathematics. In addition to teaching, our new colleague is expected to advise undergraduate Mathematics majors, attend department meetings, and participate in the life of the department.

Villanova is a Catholic university sponsored by the Augustinian order. Diversity and inclusion have been and will continue to be an integral component of Villanova University’s mission. The University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and seeks candidates who understand, respect and can contribute to the University’s mission and values.

Duties and Responsibilities include:

- Teach 12 credit hours (three or four courses) per semester.
- Advise Mathematics majors.
- Attend department meetings.
- Participate in the life of the department.
- Minimum qualifications: Master’s degree in Statistics or a related field; Strong teaching ability.

Preferred Qualifications: PhD in Statistics or a related field; Exceptional teaching ability.

Villanova is a Catholic Augustinian community of higher education, committed to excellence & distinction in the discovery, dissemination & application of knowledge. Villanova emphasizes & celebrates the liberal arts & sciences as foundational to all academic programs. The University welcomes & respects members of all faiths who seek to nurture a concern for the common good & who share enthusiasm for the challenge of responsible & productive citizenship in order to build a just & peaceful world.