Full Professor Medical Statistics, University Medical Centre Groningen (UMCG)

Groningen, Netherlands

You are able to profile the department as center of expertise in the area of statistics of ‘life course epidemiology’

- You organize and maintain good collaborations with clinical and epidemiological researchers
- You are heading the unit ‘Medical statistics and decision support’
- You conduct together with the research fellows scientific research in medical statistics and ‘life course epidemiology’
- You provide teaching in medical statistics, in collaboration with the staff members of the unit
- You report directly to the head of department of Epidemiology

Description

- A senior biostatistician with a strong quantitative background (university degree in mathematics, statistics or econometrics) with experience in medical sciences/life sciences
- An internationally esteemed researcher with excellent publications in peer-reviewed journals
- Firm knowledge of scientific research
- Affinity with ‘life course epidemiology’
- Proven experience with designing and providing teaching, preferably in a medical program

The UMCG has a preventive Hepatitis B policy. You may be required to build up sufficient protection against Hepatitis B before you can be appointed. Vaccination is provided by the UMCG if necessary.