The Department of Statistics at the University of Connecticut invites applications for two full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor positions to begin in August 2017.

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is entering a transformational period of growth supported by the $1.7B Next Generation Connecticut (http://nextgenct.uconn.edu/), the $1B Bioscience Connecticut (http://biosciencedct.uchc.edu/) investments, and a new Academic Plan: Path to Excellence (http://issuu.com/uconnprovost/docs/academic-plan-single-hi-optimized_1). As part of these initiatives, UConn has hired more than 450 new faculty members at all ranks during the past three years. We are pleased to continue by inviting applications for faculty positions in the Department of Statistics. For more information regarding the Department of Statistics please visit the department website at www.stat.uconn.edu.

The successful candidate will be expected to share a deep commitment to effective instruction at the undergraduate and graduate levels and to the mentoring of students in their professional development. Successful candidates will be expected to broaden participation among members of underrepresented groups; demonstrate through their activities the richness of diversity in the learning experience; integrate multicultural experiences into instructional methods and research tools; contribute to the development of pedagogical techniques designed to meet the needs of diverse learning styles and intellectual interests.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. in statistics, biostatistics, applied probability or a closely related discipline. Equivalent foreign degrees are acceptable. Candidates should demonstrate a superior research record and potential in at least one area among big data science, high-dimensional data, applied probability, financial/time series and panel data, image and functional data, spatial and temporal statistics, design of clinical trials, or network data analysis. Candidates with an outstanding research record in other areas may also be considered. Strong potential for grant support is needed.

Preferred Qualifications: Postdoctoral experience or a prior assistant professorship; strong interpersonal and communication skills; an outstanding record of research and scholarship excellence; commitment to effective teaching, integrating technology into instruction, on-line instruction; and the ability to contribute through research, teaching, and/or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the learning experience.

Appointment Terms: These are full-time, 9-month, tenure track positions at the assistant professor level with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2017. The successful candidate’s academic appointment will be at the Storrs campus. Faculty may also be asked to teach at one of UConn’s regional campuses as part of their ordinary workload. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.
