The Joseph J. Zilber School of Public Health, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, invites applications for a non-tenure-track Visiting Assistant Professor position in Biostatistics that will begin in August 21, 2017. The successful candidate will be expected to teach graduate level biostatistics courses; mentor graduate students; develop and/or expand their own research program; and collaborate with academic colleagues in the Zilber School and the University. This appointment is a 9-month position with a two-year contract that offers a competitive salary and benefit package.

Required Qualifications: Doctoral degree or equivalent in Biostatistics or related disciplines by August 21, 2017.

Preferred Qualifications: (1) On-going research in Biostatistics (2) Proven ability to teach graduate level biostatistics courses and mentor graduate students. (3) Research interests in one or both areas of Statistical commuting and Bayesian statistics. (4) Teaching interests in one or both areas of Statistical commuting and Bayesian statistics.

Research interests of current Biostatistics faculty include GWAS, statistical genetics, pharmacogenomics, public health bioinformatics, network modeling, causal inference, high-dimensional data analysis, biomedical informatics, risk prediction for chronic diseases, and applied statistics for population health and social and behavioral health sciences. The Zilber School is involved in research that spans tobacco and food policies; life-course analyses, maternal and child health; epigenetics; developmental neurobiology and immunotoxicology; environmental toxicology; social and environmental epidemiology; and mass criminalization and health.

Application Process: This is a continuous recruitment. Review of applications will begin February 10, 2017, and continue until the position is filled. Applications received after February 9, 2017, may not receive consideration. All applications must be done online through the UWM Human Resources web site. To apply for this position, please use the following link, http://jobs.uwm.edu/postings/25891

---

All finalists for these positions will require a criminal records review consistent with the Wisconsin Fair Employment Act.

Learn more about the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and the Joseph J. Zilber School of Public Health by visiting the home page at www.uwm.edu

For the UWM Campus Security report, see http://www.cleryact.uwm.edu or call the Office of Student Life at 414-229-4632 for a paper copy.

UWM is an AA/EOE employer. All qualified applications will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, or protected veteran status.