Data Analyst
Southampton, United Kingdom

Kingfisher plc

We want to create good homes by making home improvement accessible for everyone. Our ambition is to become the leading home improvement company. To deliver our ambition, we need to become ONE company, which we will do by building on the already strong local identities, teams and communities across all our retail brands and functions. We are investing in working better together, to make the most of our scale and to better serve our customers.

We are creating a new centralised function, our Offer & Supply Chain team will be using our global buying power to source all our products more cost-effectively and in the same way from a wide range of international suppliers. And we’re distributing them more efficiently through a single, simplified, company-wide logistics network. With greater control over our supply chain, we can set prices consistently across all our brands using the insight and expertise of our people, with less influence from suppliers or local markets.

Offer & Supply Chain will mean that for the first time ever we’re selling the same unified ranges across all nine Operating Companies, while investing in our own unique and exclusive products.

This role sits within the Offer & Supply Chain (or OSC’s) Sourcing team. The Sourcing function is set up to source the products we sell across our Operating Companies, manage our suppliers and make the most of our scale to deliver high quality products our customers want, at a cost they can afford.

They have the a great opportunity to lower the total costs of our new ranges while improving product quality, doing this by reducing the number of products we stock, designing new ranges to cost and sourcing high quality global manufacturers who can produce large volumes for a lower price per unit.

They will also source direct from factories and transform the way we procure suppliers, levelling the playing field with more competitive tenders that deliver the best value for Kingfisher.

As the Data Analyst you will support all sourcing teams in structuring supplier negotiations by conducting data analysis. You will also conduct spend analysis proactively and in support of the Sourcing Matrix through standard data analytics methodologies. You will play a key role in the selection of our vendors working collaboratively with stakeholders in a transparent way ensuring decisions are made on fact.
Requirements

- Support Range Sourcing and Sourcing Offices in structuring suppliers’ negotiations and data analyses.
- Analyse group supplier contract database in co-ordination with Range, Finance function and Sourcing offices.
- Conduct spend analysis proactively and in support of the Sourcing Matrix through standard data analytics methodologies.
- Expertise in data Analytics
- Expertise in financial control
- Support Range Sourcing and Sourcing Offices in structuring supplier negotiations and contracts.

Additional Information

Becoming part of our new Offer & Supply Chain function is a fantastic opportunity, we want to be able to provide our employee’s with roles where they feel engaged and empowered to move us into this new way of working. Alongside that we want to be able to offer a competitive benefits package that allows our employees to feel a valued part of our team.

Our Benefits package includes:- Competitive Salary, Pension, Annual Bonus scheme, Holiday entitlement and a number of other benefits.